Questions

Note: " (for reference) " slides will not be discussed today

Background

- •Lake County Community Development (Lake County) distributes "HOME," "CDBG," and "NSP" funds that come from HUD.
- •These funds help pay for the building, acquisition, or rehab of properties intended to be sold or rented to low-income residents. Property managers must rent a portion of those units to low-income tenants for a predetermined "period of affordability" (or sell to low-income homebuyers).
- •HUD has several requirements to ensure compliance.
- •These requirements are detailed in the legal documents between the property owner and the county.

This workshop specifically discusses rules for HOME funds. CDBG, NSP, and AHP share similar rules but may differ.

Terms and definitions

- "PJ" or "Participating Jurisdiction"— the entity that distributes HUD funding to the area (Lake County)
- "Property Owner" or "Developer"— the entity that receives HUD funding for a project
- "Property manager" the entity responsible to qualify tenants and submit annual compliance documents to the PJ
- "Period of Affordability" or "Affordability Period"— the time period the property owners must rent HOME units to qualified low-income tenants (typically 5, 10, 15, or 20 years)
- "HOME units" the portion of units in a development that must be rented according to HOME rules
- "HOME Rent Limits" the maximum amounts that owners can charge tenants for HOME units
- "HOME Income Limits" the maximum amount of income tenants can have to qualify for HOME units
- "AMI" or "Area Median Income" the categories of income level tenants may fall under. HOME programs may target benefits to tenants at 80% AMI, 60% AMI, 50% AMI, or 30% AMI
- "Low-Income" a household where the household income is not greater than 80% AMI
- "Noncompliant" or "out of compliance" when HOME rules are not followed; may result in repayment of funds

Standard vs. Group Home Form

- •Both forms have demographic, income, and lease information
- •The main difference is the allowable rent
- Standard Form requires you to indicate whether the unit is High HOME (HH) or Low HOME (LH) and fill in the associated rent limit. This is uniform across all HH or LH units of the same unit size.
- Group Home Form requires you to treat the unit as one fair market unit and split the rent equally among occupants. The total rent allowed will change with the number of occupants in the unit.

CDBG and HOME Effective: July 1, 2020

Lease period

- •The lease period must cover all of the reporting period. You must report on every lease (and every tenant) that has lived in that unit from July 1st to June 30th.
- •Fill out a separate line for each lease that occurred during the reporting period. If the lease period is not July 1-June 30, then you will fill out multiple lines per unit
- Example: Tenant A lived in the unit from June 1st, 2018-July 18th, 2018. Tenant B lived in the unit from July 21st, 2018-July 21st, 2019. Fill out the form with one line for Tenant A and one line for Tenant B.
- Example: Tenant A has lived in the unit for 3 years, but their lease term is from August 1-July 31 of each year. Fill out the form with one line for each lease, even if the tenant's other information does not change.
- •All tenants must have a lease. If the lease is for less than 1 year, there must be a signed form in the tenant's file that indicates the tenant understands they are entitled to a lease term of 1 year and would prefer a shorter lease period.
- •The date of the beginning of the lease term must be within 6 months of the date the property manager income-certified the tenant.

Rent data: STANDARD FORM

- •# of bedrooms: indicate the number of bedrooms in the unit. This is the unit size and determines how much rent may be charged.
- •Low or High HOME unit: Your legal documents define # of units limited to LH and HH rent.
- •Applicable HOME rent maximum: Fill in the maximum rent limit indicated on the Income & Rent Limits document handout in the Low HOME Rent or High HOME rent row. Make sure you are using the sheet with an effective date that corresponds to the start date of the lease.
- •Utility allowance: if utilities are not included ($0), then your utility allowance must be approved by Lake County along with your rent.
- •Actual maximum rent: SUBTRACT the utility allowance from the rent maximum to determine the actual maximum rent.* HUD HOME limits include utilities (the excel form will calculate for you)
- •Tenant rent contribution: enter the actual amount the tenant pays.

If you are not clear on your number of low or high HOME units or utility allowance, contact Michele Slav.

Rent data: GROUP HOME FORM

- •Shared room status yes/no: Indicate whether the tenant shares a room.
- •Applicable Fair Market Rent/Unit (for calc. basis only): Fill in the rent limit indicated on the Income & Rent Limits document handout in the Fair Market Rent row. Make sure you are using the sheet with an effective date that corresponds to the start date of the lease.
- •Actual maximum rent: This is calculated for you based on the number of bedrooms and whether or not they are shared.
- Ex: the FMR is 1500 for a 3 bedroom unit, so each bedroom may be rented for $500. If bedroom 1 is a single, max rent is $500 for that tenant. If bedroom 2 is shared, max rent is $250 for each tenant.
- Tenant rent contribution: enter the actual amount the tenant pays.

Rent data: BOTH FORMS

- •Subsidy amount: if the tenant receives a subsidy, enter the dollar amount here. This can be a subsidy provided to the tenant for rent or provided directly to the landlord.
- •Subsidy type: enter the number code 1-5 or 9 that corresponds with the type of subsidy as indicated in the instructions. (ex: 1=Section 8)
- •Total rent: This is calculated for you.
- •Approved rent: Most recent amount approved on a Rent Increase Approval Form for unit

Over Income: BOTH FORMS

•Over-income household: If the household is currently over the income allowed by the HOME program, indicate "Yes." The household should be within the income limits at the time of their initial lease, but their income may have increased. Temporary noncompliance is OK, and you will never evict a tenant if their income increases. If a tenant is over income limits, contact Lake County for guidance. This will likely result in a higher rent being charged, but there are many potential outcomes due to the specific circumstances of that housing development.

•Compliant: Leave blank

The forms: Property Standards Certification

- •Certifies that the property owner is maintaining the property up to standards as agreed to in the grant agreement
- •Required every year along with Income and Rent and Occupancy Log Report

Property Standards Certification cont.

- •HOME project number: the number assigned by Lake County (ex: H9621, C0844)
- Project developer: the organization that developed the project
- •Project address: the address of the building. You may use multiple addresses with a semicolon between them (make sure there is 1 entry of project number for every 1 entry of address)
- •Total units: all units in the building, even fair market units or units designated for other programs
- •HOME units: the units that used HOME dollars and are required to comply with annual certification documents discussed in this presentation. (Low HOME, High HOME, and fair market rent group homes)
- You must sign this form

The forms: Rent Increase Approval Form

- •Required each time a property manager intends to increase rent
- •Required each time a property manager intends to adjust utility allowance

Income Targeting: Terms

- •Low-income is the term used to refer to recipients of HOME funds. All tenants must be at or below 80% AMI.
- •High HOME units or Low HOME units: Whether your HOME unit is designated as High HOME (HH) or Low HOME (LH) determines who you can rent the unit to and how much rent you can charge.
- Your grant agreement will specify whether your unit is High HOME, Low HOME, or a group home (which can collect Fair Market Rent)
- Your grant agreement will specify the maximum AMI level for tenants in your LH or HH units.
- Your grant agreement will specify the maximum rent you may charge. The LH or HH limit on the Income & Rent Limits sheet is the maximum that you may be approved for, but you must receive approval for your rent amount even if it is below the maximum.

Determining Income: Basics

- Annual gross income is used to determine eligibility.
- This is the sum of income for all household members expected to reside in the unit.
- Must be determined using the Part 5 (Section 8) definition of income.
- •(For reference):
- Adjusted income is used to determine rent ONLY:
- if the unit is subsidized with a voucher or
- If the tenant is temporarily over-income in a HOME unit

Overview of Annual Gross Income Eligibility Process

Step 1: Collect & Analyze Application, Release from HH, and Income and Asset Source Documentation

Step 2: Calculate HH Income Using Worksheet & Project Forward

If Part 5 (Section 8) definition, asset calculation

Step 3: Compare amount of projected income against current HOME income limits for the household size

Step 4: Document files

Step 1: Collect Application

- •Your application should include:
- A list of all household members and their age
- Income and assets of all adult household members
- Questions about anticipated income changes
- If obtaining information from a third party, the tenant must sign a release form
- •When reviewing Income and Rent Limits, you will be looking at 2 main items:
- # of persons in the household, or household (HH) members
- income the household brings in, or household (HH) income
- •Once you collect income information, that information is good for 6 months. Always document the date you collect and verify income information.

Step 1: Collect Application cont. Household members and income	Include in # of HH members?	Include in # of HH income?
All adults who live in the residence, regardless of familial status	YES	YES
Foster children, legal kinship guardians, or foster adults	NO	NO
Live-in aids/children of live-in aids	NO	NO
Temporarily absent household members expected to return (temporarily incarcerated, seasonal workers, active military)	YES	YES
Permanently absent household members not expected to return (residents of nursing homes)	NO	NO
Other absent household members (students)	YES/NO	YES/NO
All children who live in the residence, regardless of familial status	YES	NO
Shared custody children that live in HOME unit household at least 50% of the time	YES	NO

- If you include absent adults in the count of household members, you must include their income! (students)
- Children are almost always included in household count, but a minor's earned income is never included in household income

Who else? (for reference)

- •Include all members of multi-generational households. HOME is always concerned with the definition of "household" and never the definition of "family."
- •If boyfriends/girlfriends are living in the household, they must be documented on the application and calculated into the household count/income. If there is any question about whether or not they live there, there must be documentation of evidence they live elsewhere (utility bill).
- •If couples are separated/divorced/in the process, then document that with legal agreement/decree and evidence they live elsewhere (lease, utility bill). In case of a deceased spouse, include their death certificate in documentation.
- •Student heads of households: students under 24 do not independently qualify as a low-income household unless they meet the requirements of certain exceptions (identical to Section 8 requirements and includes exceptions such as veterans, married, persons with disabilities, or have dependent children)
- •Students can count as members of other households

Step 2: Calculate Income

- •Calculate gross income as defined by Part 5.
- •We recommend using the HUD CPD Income Eligibility Calculator, a step-by-step process for determining income https://www.hudexchange.info/incomecalculator/
- •Unless income changes are anticipated, you can assume that income will not change over the next 12 months
- •Two months of "source documents" are required to verify
- Several pay stubs that verify overtime, tips, and bonuses
- Social Security Administration (SSA) letter (one annual letter is sufficient)
- Tax returns (if circumstances have not changed since filing)
- If collecting tax return as sole source of income (b/c self-employed, etc.) then you must obtain a certified IRS copy by using form 4506 or 4506T
- Tax returns can also be used to verify number of dependents and identify sources of income that are not reported on the application

Part 5 Definition of Income

- •Defined in 24 CFR Part 5
- •Part 5 is the same as the Section 8 definition of income.
- •Public housing authorities use the Part 5 definition.
- •Projects also funded with LIHTC must use the Part 5 definition.

DO NOT use the IRS 1040 definition of income for projects funded by Lake County.

Part 5 Definition of Income

- •Income inclusions and exclusions:
- https://www.hudexchange.info/plugins/incomecalculator/assets/docs/HUD_P5_Inclusions_Exclusions.pdf
- Assets and imputed asset calculation:
- Assets are any cash or non-cash item that can be converted to cash
- •Unlike LIHTC, which excludes assets less than $5,000, HOME documents all assets
- Asset income must be included in annual income
- If asset produces no income, perform an "imputed asset" calculation (only if total assets are greater than $5,000)
- Calculate using the Passbook Rate
- •If assets are disposed of during the 2 years preceding the income determination and the asset was disposed of for less than fair market value, it must be counted as if the household still owned the asset

In practice, include the difference between the cash value and the amount actually received in disposition

Other issues (for reference)

- Tax returns
- Third-party verification
- •Wage rates, variations in pay, and non steady pay (seasonal)
- Other sources of income (unemployment, self-employed)
- Household members with zero income
- •Calculating adjusted income for the purposes of determining amount of tenantbased rental assistance or amount of rent for temporarily over-income HOME tenants

Step 3: Compare to HOME limits

- •Make sure you are comparing the income to the HOME Income & Rent Limits document with the correct effective date
- •When reviewing Income & Rent Limits, you are looking at 2 main items: the number of persons in the household (household members) and the amount of income (household income)
- •If households are more than 8 persons, multiply the "4 person" limit by a predetermined multiplier to determine income limit (9 persons= 1.4x, 10 persons=1.48x, 11 persons=1.56x)

Step 4: Document

- •The rental applicant file should include:
- Tenant application with all household members and eligibility information*
- If the unit is designated as High HOME or Low HOME
- Income verification documentation (source documentation)*
- Income calculation worksheet (HUD CPD calculator)*
- Executed tenant lease
- Annual income recertification documentation (source documents)
- Adjusted income and tenant subsidy information (if subsidized with voucher/rental assistance)
- Documentation of termination (if applicable)

^{*}Homebuyer and homeowner applicant files should include all indicated with an asterisk

Annual Income Re-examinations

- Tenant income must be re-examined annually
- at the anniversary date of initial verification
- at the lease renewal, or
- on an annual schedule where all tenants are reviewed at the same time
